Gary Bannerman, a former Vancouver talk show host and personal friend of Premier Bill Vander Zalm, has been appointed to the board of the B.C. Ferry Corp.

After turning down a similar appointment three years ago because of concern about conflict of interest, Bannerman said Friday he would accept the appointment.

Bannerman gave up a 1987 appointment to the B.C. Enterprise Corp. because of concern the job would put him in a position of conflict of interest with his open-line talk show on CKNW.

But Bannerman, who no longer has the talk show, said sitting on the ferry board is different because his media work now is only a sideline to his consulting business.
